Internationalizing Michigan Education
2011 Annual Conference — November 21, 2011

Preparing Students for Success in the Global Economy

Go where few instructional leaders have gone before!

- Learn how Michigan students can use technology to link with classrooms around the world
- Find out how virtual tools can be used to enhance instruction.
- Hear from schools that are internationalizing their curricula in amazing ways
- Use technology to interact LIVE with international students and teachers
- Learn more about iNET and its global efforts to transform education

Mark your calendars for the exciting follow-up to the highly successful February 2010 iNET conference!

This event features education technology leader Alan November. Come hear from one of the nation's most influential thinkers, who will show you how to push global boundaries and use virtual resources to internationalize K-12 student learning.
