Council of Graduate Students (COGS) News:

A new executive board was elected with many of the same officers staying on to keep up the good work. We will, however, say good-bye to our executive law liaison John Petkus, Nicholas Madaj, current COGS Parliamentarian, and treasure Amanda Herzog and welcome in new Vice President of External Affairs Leigh Ann Jordan. COGS also hosted its third annual Graduate Academic Conference on March 25th, which was host to a great many presentations about all the exciting work graduate and professional students are doing on campus, and a very engaging talk by keynote speaker Nigel Paneth. COGS, through the leadership and efforts of President Stefan Fletcher, also voted at its full council meeting to provide up to $1000 in matching funds for the Japan relief effort, and has partnered with the Panhellenic Council, the Residence Halls association, the Office of International Students and Scholars, MSU Japan Club and MSU cullinary services in the fundraising effort which has already more than doubled the pledged amount from COGS.

In a meeting with Vice President of Finance and Operations Fred Poston, Assistant Director of Human Resources Brent Bowditch, Director of Benefits Renee Rivard and Assistant Director of Benefits Corie Snellenberger, COGS President Stefan Fletcher and Vice President for Internal Affairs Adam Lovgren raised several concerns regarding the manner in which this year's Student Health Insurance Request for Proposals (RFP) was run. Graduate Employees Union (GEU) News:

The Graduate Employees Union and the University are still working to finalize a new contract for the 1300 Teaching Assistants on campus. Tentative agreements have been reached in many areas, but negotiation is still taking place, primarily around stipends and tuition waivers. Keep up-to-date on the bargaining process by visiting www.geuatmsu.org or by contacting your department's GEU Steward. If your department does not yet have a steward, consider becoming one yourself. Contact geu@msu.edu for more information.

To lend your support to the collective effort to secure a new contract, (a) wear your GEU t-shirt every Wednesday, (b) write a letter to the editor of the State News or the Lansing State Journal in support of MSU's teaching assistants, (c) come to the Board of Trustees meeting on April 15, and (d) attend the next GEU Member Meeting on April 19.

Additionally, the GEU is currently accepting nominations for its officer positions as well as for the GEU Outstanding Supervisor Award and the GEU Outstanding Department Award.

Graduating in May?

Make sure you know everything you need to know to be prepared for your upcoming graduation. Check out the commencement page HERE for information on advanced degree instructions.

Congratulations to our MSU Graduates!

Meditation With Bob Eubanks

Tuesday, May 3rd, 2011

5:00 pm

Room 110 Student Services

In this experiential session, graduate students will be provided with an initial experience in the transformative potential which lies in moving toward a Mindful way of living. Mindfulness as a term will be defined, as well as instruction on Mindfulness based mediation and stress relieving practices that can be put into personal use to help in the completion of your graduate degree.

Registration REQUIRED! Email gradwellness@vps.msu.edu with the following information: Name, Department, Email address, "Meditation," and the date (5/3/11). Find out more here.

Limit of 25 people.

The Academic Job Talk

THE "JOB TALK" is perhaps the single most important thing you'll do during an academic interview. On the basis of your presentation, you'll be evaluated as a scholar, teacher and potential colleague. A dynamic talk is likely to result in a job offer, while a poorly organized, flat or uninspired presentation will almost certainly eliminate you from consideration.
